DATE OF APPOINTMENT  August 2016

RANK AND SALARY  Position 1: Assistant Professor, tenure track; Position 2: Assistant Professor, limited term (1-year renewable). Salary commensurate with credentials, experience, and reputation.

QUALIFICATIONS  Doctorate in music education, with emphasis in secondary choral or instrumental music (orchestra or band). Applicants must show clear evidence of and potential for significant scholarly contributions to the field, demonstrated excellence in teaching, and a desire to contribute to a dynamic, holistic music program located in a city known for its music and arts culture.

RESPONSIBILITIES  • Teach music education methods & literature courses, voice or instrumental methods; graduate courses and seminars
  • Assist with supervising student teachers and graduate research
  • Assist in student recruitment
  • Pursue active research, publications, professional activities and community outreach
  • Other duties as assigned

TO APPLY  Applications will be reviewed beginning January 6, 2016, until the position is filled. Submit a cover letter, vita, and academic transcript (of latest degree) in PDF format to http://facultyjobs.uga.edu/postings/504. Candidates should provide contact information for three references, who will be contacted by the School of Music for letters of recommendation as part of the initial review process. Application questions can be directed to:

  Dr. Clinton (Skip) Taylor, Search Committee Chair
cftaylor@uga.edu
  Phone 706-542-3737
  Fax: 706-542-2773

The University of Georgia is the first state-chartered university in America. It is a comprehensive land/sea grant university located in Athens, Georgia, 60 miles northeast of downtown Atlanta, the state capital (www.visitathensga.com, www.uga.edu). Georgia is well known for its quality of life in regard to both outdoor and urban activities (www.georgia.gov).

The Hugh Hodgson School of Music (www.music.uga.edu) is home to 500 students and a faculty of 60. The Hodgson School is part of the Performing and Visual Arts Complex that includes the five-story music building and the Performing Arts Center. Undergraduate programs include the Bachelor of Arts degree and Bachelor of Music degrees in composition, education, therapy, theory, and performance. Graduate offerings include MA, MM, MMEd, Education Specialist, Doctor of Education, DMA and PhD degrees, with majors in performance, conducting, composition, musicology/ethnomusicology, and education.

The Franklin College of Arts and Sciences, its many units, and the University of Georgia are committed to increasing the diversity of its faculty and students, and sustaining a work and learning environment that is inclusive. The University is an EEO/AA institution and all applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, ethnicity or national origin, religion, age, genetic information, disability, or protected veteran status.