Assistant Professor of Musicology – Tenure Track

DATE OF APPOINTMENT  August 2016

RANK AND SALARY  Assistant Professor, tenure track. Salary commensurate with credentials, experience, and reputation.

QUALIFICATIONS  PhD in musicology. Candidates in any area of research will be considered; we look for someone whose research and teaching complements existing strengths. Applicants must show clear evidence of and potential for significant scholarly contributions to the field, demonstrated excellence in teaching, a strong interest in interdisciplinary collaborations with other departments and institutes on campus, and a desire to contribute to a dynamic, holistic music program located in a city known for its music and arts culture.

RESPONSIBILITIES
- 2+2 course load including undergraduate courses for music majors, an American Popular Music course for non-majors, and graduate seminars.
- Advising and supervision of graduate students in the MA, PhD, and DMA degree programs
- Pursue professional activities
- Other duties as assigned

TO APPLY  Applications will be reviewed beginning January 6, 2016, until the position is filled. Submit a cover letter, vita, and academic transcript (of latest degree) in PDF format to http://facultyjobs.uga.edu/postings/503. Candidates should provide contact information for three references, who will be contacted by the School of Music for letters of recommendation as part of the initial review process. Application questions can be directed to:

Dr. David Haas, Search Committee Chair
davhaas@uga.edu
Phone 706-542-3737
Fax: 706-542-2773

The University of Georgia is the first state-chartered university in America. It is a comprehensive land/sea grant university located in Athens, Georgia, 60 miles northeast of downtown Atlanta, the state capital (www.visitathensga.com, www.uga.edu). Georgia is well known for its quality of life in regard to both outdoor and urban activities (www.georgia.gov).

The Hugh Hodgson School of Music (www.music.uga.edu) is home to 500 students and a faculty of 60. The Hodgson School is part of the Performing and Visual Arts Complex that includes the five-story music building and the Performing Arts Center. Undergraduate programs include the Bachelor of Arts degree and Bachelor of Music degrees in composition, education, therapy, theory, and performance. Graduate offerings include MA, Ph.D., MM, MMEd, Education Specialist, Doctor of Education, and DMA degrees, with majors in performance, conducting, composition, musicology/ethnomusicology, and education.

The Franklin College of Arts and Sciences, its many units, and the University of Georgia are committed to increasing the diversity of its faculty and students, and sustaining a work and learning environment that is inclusive. The University is an EEO/AA institution and all applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, ethnicity or national origin, religion, age, genetic information, disability, or protected veteran status.