UGA’s Sexual Assault Response (SAR) Protocol

June 2016

The University of Georgia’s Sexual Assault Response (SAR) Protocol is intended to coordinate and assist UGA employees in delivering the highest quality of services to victims/survivors of sexual assault. This SAR Protocol is also intended to insure compliance with the University’s legal obligations under Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 (“Title IX”), the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act (“Clery Act”), and the relevant implementing regulations of each statute. The University service providers who had input into this SAR Protocol are: the Equal Opportunity Office/Title IX Coordinator (EOO), UGA Police Department, the Dean of Students Office, the Office of Student Conduct, the University Health Center including the Relationship & Sexual Violence Prevention (RSVP) office, the University Ombudspersons, the University Athletic Association, University Housing and the Office of Legal Affairs.

The steps of the SAR Protocol are, in a nutshell:

- Affirm the disclosure of sexual assault
- Explain no confidentiality
- Ask about safety and medical concerns
- Provide options for reporting to Police and/or the EOO/Title IX Coordinator
- Offer a bridge to support resources
- Fulfill your reporting obligations by contacting the EOO/Title IX Coordinator

AFFIRM THE DISCLOSURE

Listen respectfully and let the victim/survivor know that you care. In your own words, thank the survivor for telling you. Express to the survivor that you are sorry s/he has had such an experience.

Try to avoid doing the following:

* Asking for specifics, details, or “why?” You do not want to investigate (leave that to law enforcement or the EOO) or seem as though you are “blaming,” judging, or do not believe the survivor.

* Defining the experience for the survivor. Use the same words the survivor is using to describe the experience (e.g., “hurt,” “taken advantage of”). The survivor may not be ready to call what happened “rape” or “sexual assault.”

* Overly expressing your own feelings (e.g., “That’s outrageous!” “I can’t believe this happened to you!” “I am so angry someone would do that to you!”). This may make the survivor feel worse or become concerned about having upset you and feel s/he needs to take care of you.

* Touching the survivor unless initiated by the survivor. Unwanted touching may make the survivor feel worse.

* Exhibiting distraction. Be present when the survivor is with you – don’t check your watch, phone, email, answer in-coming calls, etc.
EXPLAIN NO CONFIDENTIALITY

The vast majority of UGA employees (faculty and staff) have no confidentiality when a student discloses sexual assault or other sexual violence and must report any such disclosure to the EOO/Title IX Coordinator.

A few employees at UGA have a statutory privilege of confidentiality under Georgia state law and so do not have to report disclosures of sexual assault received while acting within the scope of their privilege. These employees are:

- Counseling & Psychiatric Services (CAPS) at the UGA Health Center
- UGA Health Center medical clinicians
- Counselors at UGA’s Aspire Clinic, Center for Counseling & Personal Evaluation, and Psychology Clinic

A few employees have been designated by UGA as confidential support resources and do not have to report identifying information about the survivor unless the Title IX Coordinator determines that they must provide identifying information due to overriding safety concerns for either the survivor or the University community. They are:

- Relationship & Sexual Violence Prevention (RSVP) employees at UGA’s Health Center
- Student Care and Outreach employees in the UGA Dean of Students Office
- UGA Ombudspersons

All other UGA employees should promptly report all information known about the sexual assault to the EOO/Title IX Coordinator. Responsible employees (i.e., employees whom a student could reasonably believe to be in a position of authority, including, without limitation, all faculty, instructors, administrators, supervisors, residential assistants, and graduate teaching assistants) MUST promptly report all information known about the sexual assault to the EOO/Title IX Coordinator. Failure to promptly report can result in discipline. A report to the EOO/Title IX Coordinator can be made via email or over the phone (706.542.7912) or in person (119 Holmes-Hunter Bldg. on North campus right behind the Arch) or by completing a Sexual Misconduct Complaint Form.

Reporting includes relaying to the EOO/Title IX Coordinator any request by the survivor for confidentiality/anonymity or no-investigation. The EOO/Title IX Coordinator will take into consideration such requests when determining what follow-up action by the University is necessary to remedy the effects of sexual violence and prevent its recurrence. Honoring a survivor's request for confidentiality or anonymity may limit the University's ability to investigate the incident or discipline a responsible alleged assailant. Situations where it may not be possible to honor a survivor's request for confidentiality/anonymity or no-investigation include, without limitation, more than one report against the same alleged perpetrator, more than one alleged perpetrator in the same assault, a weapon was involved, the alleged perpetrator is a University employee, or the incident occurred at a University-affiliated function or event. Where the reported facts require an EOO/Title IX investigation that will necessitate disclosing the survivor's identity to the alleged assailant and possibly others involved, the survivor will be informed before any investigative action is taken.
Where a survivor requests confidentiality/anonymity or no-investigation, an anonymous data form will be submitted to the UGA Police either by the EOO/Title IX Coordinator or by the confidential support resource employee who received the initial disclosure. The anonymous data form does not contain any identifying information about the survivor. This form is for purposes of federally mandated reporting by universities of statistical crime data under the Clery Act.

MEDICAL & SAFETY CONCERNS

_Inquire about immediate safety concerns_ (e.g., does the survivor live with or have to regularly interact with the alleged assailant; has the alleged assailant threatened future harm to the survivor). If these concerns exist, contact law enforcement at 911 or UGA's Relationship and Sexual Violence Prevention office (706.542.SAFE) to develop a safety plan. Both are available 24-hours/7 days a week. Once you have done so, please also notify the Equal Opportunity Office of the situation so that if the alleged assailant is a University community member, appropriate interim protective measures can be put in place if the survivor desires (e.g., issuing a no-contact order to the alleged assailant and letting him/her know that retaliation can be a separate basis for disciplinary action, facilitating changes to the alleged assailant's or survivor's University housing assignment or to their class or work schedules to minimize contact, etc.).

_Inquire about the survivor’s need for medical treatment_ (e.g., physical injury, emergency contraception, treatment for possible sexually transmitted infections). Offer to help connect the survivor with medical care providers. A list of medical providers in the Athens, Georgia area, which includes various clinics at the University Health Center as well as local hospitals is available at: UGA Campus Resources. If there is a medical emergency, call 911.

_Inquire if the survivor is interested in a Sexual Assault Nurse Examination (SANE)._ This exam can be performed within 120 hours (5 days) of the assault to collect forensic evidence (rape kit). The survivor does not have to make a police report to have the exam conducted and the exam is free. The survivor can decide later if s/he wants the evidence to be processed. A SANE exam can be arranged by contacting any of the following resources: the University Health Center, the UGA Relationship & Sexual Violence Prevention (RSVP) office, UGA Police, The Cottage Sexual Assault Center, Athens-Clarke County Police, or local hospitals (Athens Regional or St. Mary’s). Contact information for these service providers is available at: UGA Campus Resources.

EXPLAIN REPORTING OPTIONS

_Ask if the survivor wants to make a report to law enforcement and offer to assist or accompany the survivor to do so, or offer to arrange for an advocate from RSVP or The Cottage Sexual Assault Center to accompany the survivor._ Making a report to law enforcement does not commit the survivor to having the alleged assailant notified of the report, having an investigation conducted, or to pressing charges. Those decisions can be made at a later point. It is the survivor’s choice whether to report to law enforcement UNLESS: (1) there is an immediate safety threat present, or (2) the survivor is under the age of 16. Thus, while UGA employees should, and in most cases must, report disclosures of sexual assault to the EOO/Title IX Coordinator, they should not contact law enforcement unless requested to do so by the survivor.
Ask if the survivor wants to make a report to the EOO/Title IX Coordinator to initiate a Title IX investigation by the University to determine if there was a violation by a University community member of the University System of Georgia Board of Regents' Sexual Misconduct Policy. Explain to the survivor that Title IX and the Sexual Misconduct Policy both prohibit retaliation for the survivor's making or being associated with a report to the EOO/Title IX Coordinator and that the University will promptly take interim protective measures to protect the survivor from retaliation (e.g., issuing a no-contact order to the alleged assailant and letting him/her know that retaliation can provide a separate basis for disciplinary action, facilitating changes to the alleged assailant's or survivor's University housing assignment or class or work schedules to minimize contact, etc.). Explain that you will have to inform the EOO/Title IX Coordinator of the incident but allow the survivor the option of making a direct report and offer to assist the survivor in making a report if they wish to. Reports can be made via phone (706.542.7912), email, by completing a Sexual Misconduct Complaint Form, or in person (119 Holmes-Hunter Bldg, on North campus right behind the Arch, or at another pre-arranged location such as the RSVP office). In the case of an in-person meeting, the survivor may have a support person of their choice present with them.

Explain that if the survivor wants to remain confidential or anonymous, or does not want the EOO/Title IX Coordinator to conduct an investigation, you will relay (or the survivor can relay) this information when informing the EOO/Title IX Coordinator of the incident. Explain that the EOO/Title IX Coordinator will take into consideration such requests when determining what follow-up action by the University is necessary to remedy the effects of sexual violence and prevent its recurrence. Explain that honoring a request for confidentiality/anonymity may limit the University's ability to investigate the incident and discipline a responsible alleged assailant. Where the reported facts require an EOO/Title IX investigation that will necessitate disclosing the survivor's identity to the alleged assailant and possibly others involved, the survivor will be informed before any investigative action is taken.

Reporting to law enforcement and the EOO/Title IX Coordinator are not mutually exclusive options. A survivor can report to one, both or neither. However, investigations conducted by law enforcement and the EOO/Title IX Coordinator are separate and independent of one another.

Caveats about EOO/Title IX investigations:

- The EOO/Title IX Coordinator is not an advocate for, and does not represent, either the survivor or the alleged assailant.
- No information about the incident or investigation is shared with parents of students, or third parties unrelated to the investigation, absent written permission from the subject student. This is pursuant to the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA).
- Amnesty: No information concerning any student's drinking or drug use that is revealed to the EOO/Title IX Coordinator in the course of a sexual assault report or investigation will be referred to the Office of Student Conduct or voluntarily reported to law enforcement.
- EOO/Title IX investigations apply the preponderance-of-the-evidence standard (i.e., "more likely than not"). This is a lower standard of proof than beyond-a-reasonable-doubt, which is used in the criminal context.
- An EOO investigator will conduct interviews with all relevant parties and witnesses and obtain and review other information relevant to the reported assault. If, at the end of the investigation, either party to the investigation (i.e., the survivor or alleged assailant) disagrees as to the investigator's findings regarding whether or not there is a preponderance of evidence that sexual misconduct occurred and the recommended sanctions, a hearing will be conducted before three (3) panel members consisting of UGA employees (faculty and staff, no student panelists). Both parties have the right to participate in the hearing, but neither is required to do so. The investigator will also provide information at the hearing as to the evidence obtained during the investigation. The panel members will then determine the finding of any sexual misconduct and any sanction. For additional information on the procedures for investigating alleged sexual misconduct against any UGA student, see the University System of Georgia Board of Regents' Sexual Misconduct Policy, located at: http://www.usg.edu/policymanual/section4/C327/

- Consequences can be significant if sexual misconduct is found, including suspension, expulsion or dismissal in instances of sexual assault.

OFFER A BRIDGE TO SUPPORT RESOURCES

Always provide referrals to counseling and support resources, even if the incident occurred in the past (even years ago). Information about resources is available at: UGA Campus Resources. UGA’s Relationship and Sexual Violence Prevention Office (RSVP) will endeavor to provide support to University community members outside of Athens who have experienced sexual or relationship violence via email, telephone and or Skype. RSVP can be reached 24 hours a day at (706) 542-7233.

Also, for remote locations, consult with your program director or administrator, human resources personnel, or student support professional to identify local support resources.

FULFILL YOUR REPORTING OBLIGATION

Make a timely report to the EOO/Title IX Coordinator by:

- Phone – (706) 542-7912; OR
- Email – ugaeoo@uga.edu; OR
- Sexual Misconduct Complaint Form; OR
- In-Person – 119 Holmes-Hunter Bldg. (on North campus behind the Arch)

Disclose all known information about the sexual assault and relay any requests for confidentiality/anonymity or no-investigation.

Where a survivor has requested confidentiality/anonymity and there is no immediate safety threat, and the survivor is 16 years or older, you are not required to disclose information about the survivor’s identity to any other UGA office or official (apart from the EOO/Title IX Coordinator), or to any third party, without the survivor’s consent. You also should not contact law enforcement unless the survivor requests you to do so.

If you have questions about this SAR Protocol, please contact the EOO/Title IX Coordinator at (706) 542-7912 or ugaeoo@uga.edu. The University of Georgia Equal Opportunity Office 119 Holmes-Hunter Academic Building Athens, GA 30602 (706) 542-2822 (fax) ugaeoo@uga.edu
